Multnomah Education Service District (MESD) is offering the Trauma Sensitive Schools training series developed by Multnomah County. This year, the training is tailored for teachers. In order to support classroom practices, the training is offered in grade level cohorts for teachers throughout Multnomah County.

The day long training includes:

- Trauma and Resiliency Frameworks
- Rewiring for Growth
- Race, Gender, and Intersecting Systems of Oppression
- Cost of Caring
- Trauma Informed Behavior Response

Audience: Teachers interested in learning the basics of trauma sensitive practices in the education setting.
